

Join the U.S. Commercial Service in Canada's Delegation to XPONENTIAL 2016!

May 2-5, 2016 – New Orleans, LA

The Association for Unmanned Vehicle Systems' Xponential (formerly Unmanned Systems) will be taking place May 2-5 at the Ernest N. Morial Convention Center, New Orleans (www.xponential.org). This is the world's largest event dedicated to unmanned systems, drones, and intelligent robotics – you simply cannot afford to miss out. Learn about the latest and emerging technologies, the future of unmanned systems policy and regulations and join representatives and decision-makers from the private sector, government, and academia by participating in more than 100 educational sessions. The event draws more than 8000 industry leaders and attendees from more than 55 countries.

The U.S. Commercial Service collaborates with AUVSI and offers special pricing and excellent benefits to its delegation members, including:

- Complimentary 1-day Expo Hall Pass
  - This includes the General Session for the day of the pass, and Exhibit Hall access for that particular day to the:
    - Demonstration Area
    - Afternoon Networking Receptions
    - Innovation Hub (Answer Bar, AUVSI Foundation Booth, Beyond the Booth Showcase, Discovery AUVSI, Poster Presentations, Special Interest Presentations.)
    - If the pass is for Wednesday, Startup Showdown is included and will be the afternoon General Session. The General Session – Startup Showdown on Wednesday (4:15 p.m. – 5:30 p.m.) and on the Exhibit Hall on Wednesday (4:30 p.m. – 5:30 p.m.).
    - If the delegate wants to upgrade their complimentary 1-day Expo Hall Pass, they will receive a $50 discount on an Expo Hall Pass (provides them with access for all three days) or a $100 discount on All Access Pass.
    - The evening event, the Mix at Generations Hall, is $99.00 per person.

This is an awesome opportunity for Canadian companies and the financial benefit of participating in the delegation is very clear. In order to take advantage of this opportunity, all participants must register with one of the U.S. Commercial Service delegation leaders, listed below.
